Candidates Named For All Town Offices In Nomination Papers

Nomination papers for the various candidates for town offices to be voted on at the election, Town Meeting day, Monday, February first, have been filed with the Registrar for the checking of signatures and with the Town Clerk for preparation of the ballot to be used. The papers have been circulated for the past two weeks and far more signers were secured than was legally necessary. The method of placing candidates in nomination by papers proved a most successful method, superseding the caucus method and permitting any group of voters filing for a candidate. Both Athol and Orange have no caucus and all candidates must file. Nomination papers, fully signed and filed are for the following candidates:

Town Clerk, Josephine S. Haskell, 1 year; Town Treasurer, Charles F. Slate, 1 year; Collector of Taxes, Charles F. Slate, 1 year; Selectmen, three for 1 year, Fred A. Holton, George W. Carr and F. Myron Dunnell; Assessor, Fred S. Merrifield, 3 years; Moderator, William F. Hoehn, 1 year; Library Trustees, two for 3 years, Samuel E. Walker and Mary G. Parker; School committee, Sidney Given, 3 years; Cemetery Commissioner, Carlton Holton, 3 years; Constables, four for 1 year, Martin E. Vorce, Harry M. Haskell, Herman Miner and Murray M. Hammond; Tree Warden, Dean W. Williams, 1 year.

All the candidates named have accepted their nomination in writing as required by law. Several of the present officials have reluctantly consented to a re-nomination but efforts to find other candidates were exceedingly difficult and not successful.

The value of the estate is in excess of $200,000. Clapp represented Northfield and he will outline his local campaign soon. Let everybody get ready and bring their contributions to the Town hall lot. A report will soon be rendered of the amount of scrap contributed in the last drive. The collection of tin cans will take place the last week of February.

Our Men Who Are In The Services Its An Honor Roll For The Town Compiled From Authentic Sources

Back many months ago, when war clouds were looming on the horizon, the suggestion was made by the local American Legion post, that a Roll of Honor be created, by men from Northfield, who were enlisting in the services of the country. The work of tabulating was begun by a representative of the Legion and the editor of the Press and carried forward by a publication of the names. Then others became interested and kept their own records, including the branch of service and addresses. The work of continuing the original list became a difficult matter, but to Henry A. Johnson of Parker avenue was entrusted the effort and now the Press makes public the editor's appreciation in the final list which Mr. Johnson has submitted after painstaking work. It is a privilege to offer the list, but without the name of the service or the address. All are Northfield boys, but X denotes present residence elsewhere and D means discharged, P prisoner in Japan.

Articles Of Warrant Ready For Posting For Town Meeting

The submission of Articles for the Town Warrant was closed on the 12th and the following day were acted upon by the Finance Committee of the town, who made their recommendations to be submitted to the voters at the session of the Town Meeting. The Press hopes to print a summary of these Articles in its next issue, which numbers about the same as last year and provides for the appropriation of less money to carry the town through the year. Every dollar saved in appropriations will mean just so much less in the amount of taxes we must pay.

The Articles will shortly be posted in the usual public places as previously designated by the town. The town meeting will open promptly at ten o'clock in the morning, called to order by the Moderator, with the Warrant read by the Town Clerk. The invocation will be by the Rev. Edward C. Dahl of the Congregational church. Polls will open for the election but the time of closing will be designated by the town meeting.

Harriet Stebbins Clark Dies In Holyoke Home

Mrs. Harriet Stebbins Clark, well known in this town as the former Mrs. J. A. Stebbins, died at her home in Holyoke from a sudden heart attack on Sunday, January 10. She was 72 years of age and the wife of Alvan S. Clark of that city. She was born in Agawam October 16, 1870.

For many years she resided in Northfield with her former husband, Josiah A. Stebbins, and kept home for his uncle, the late John Fisher, in the house, now owned by the Gillespie family on the Hinsdale road. During her residence here she was a member of the Congregational church, including the Women's Sewing Society, the Berean class, also the Fortnightly and the Women's Relief Corps. She was active in many matters here and had a host of friends who mourn her loss.

After the death of Mr. Stebbins, she went to Hartford to make her home with her sister and later married Mr. Clark, who survives, as well as one brother, Charles Smith of Longmeadow. There are six grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

In Holyoke she united with the First Baptist church, its Women's Guild and other groups. She was also a member of the Auxiliary of Engineers. The funeral was held at the church with Rev. W. Hubert Porter officiating on Wednesday, the 13th, and burial was in the Oak Grove cemetery at Springfield.

The February meeting will be omitted and the next meeting is here on March 10. Lewis Shine, Master of the local Grange, will extend the welcome and Montague Grange will give the program. The other meeting scheduled here will be on December 8 when the welcome will be given by Lecturer Emory Rikert and the program in charge of Whately Grange. The list of officers and committees of Pomona Grange include a number of local citizens who are enrolled in the membership. Of course all future meetings are dependent upon the gasoline situation.

The Editor of the Press will be glad to receive by card or letter, notice of any errors in the list, corrections or additions before the list is again published.

Complying with the regulations that all Rationing Boards shall be increased to at least five members, the present board nominated Dr. William E. Park, president of the Northfield schools, and Carl L. Mason, former member of the board of Selectmen, to the vacancies. They were approved by Fred A. Holton, chairman of the Selectmen, and by the State Rationing Board at Boston last week Thursday. They immediately assumed the responsibilities of their office. The Selectmen's room at the Town hall will continue to be used as headquarters and Mrs. Richard A. Cobb has been sworn in as the official executive secretary. Some improvements will be made to the furnishings of the room and the town hall safe will provide additional provision for the safekeeping of records. The previously announced hours when the public can transact business with the Rationing board will be maintained. Present members are F. Myron Dunnell, Dr. Richard G. Holton, and Charles L. Johnson.

Brotherhood Meeting Hears Fine Address

The Northfield Brotherhood held its monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. The guest for the evening was Professor E. E. Curtis, head of the History department of Wellesley College, who presented an interesting address on the subject of inter-American relations. After giving a helpful description of life in South America and Central America, he traced the development of international policies in the Western Hemisphere.

The address of Professor Curtis was preceded by dinner, served by the ladies of the Congregational church under the direction of Mrs. Mirene Aquison, and by a business meeting. Reports were made and items of business were transacted relative to the skating rink sponsored by the Brotherhood.

Fostene A. Bigelow

Fostene A. Bigelow, a well-known citizen of this town, passed away Wednesday evening at the Bronson Inn, where he had recently made his home. He was born at Crown Point, N. Y., December 9, 1860, the son of the late Amos F. and Mary Bigelow. He came to Northfield as a young man and had since resided here, having been in the employ of the town and at one time road commissioner. His wife, Emma Slate Bigelow died in 1910. Surviving are four sons: Edwin and Harold F. of Northfield; William of Rockville, Conn.; George of Brattleboro, and two daughters: Ruth and Emma of Portsmouth, N. H. There are ten grandchildren and several cousins. Many friends will mourn his loss. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Kidder's funeral parlors and Rev. Arthur Heeb will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot in the Center cemetery.

Fuel Oil Coupons

Many of our citizens made their applications for fuel oil for the heating of their homes and business places, as well as for institutions and others places. After consideration and in compliance with the regulations of the O. P. A., coupons were issued for the amount to be permitted. They were issued for various periods, No. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 and their validity in Zone A is as follows: Period 1 coupons, Oct. 1, '42, through Dec. 13; Period 2, Nov. 30, '42, through Jan. 20, '43; Period 3 coupons, Jan. 7, '43 through Feb. 22; Period 4 coupons, Feb. 9 through March 31; Period 5 coupons, March 18 through Sept. 30, '43. Customers must write the number of the sheet on each coupon and surrender to the dealer as the oil is purchased. One unit amounts to 10 gallons during period 1 and 2 unless changed by O.P.A. The sheet contains also coupons for 50 gallons for odd gallon deliveries. If you are in doubt as to the value of your coupons or the time of their validity, consult your oil dealer.

A small deer came limping to a farm building at Northfield Farms last Friday evening and Deputy Sheriff Martin E. Vorce was notified and put an end to the animal's misery. Game Warden McShane was notified and made an investigation which revealed that the deer had probably been struck by a train on the Central Vermont tracks. It had been badly injured. Irving Franklin.

Completes Series Gifts To Northfield Schools

The completion of a series of gifts which total $100,000 from Miss Alice L. Priest of Brookline for the Northfield Schools was announced by Dr. William E. Park, president of the schools, last week.

The terms under which the gifts were made provide for their division into two $50,000 scholarship funds to be named in memory of Miss Priest's parents. The Susan M. C. Priest fund, named for the donor's mother, goes to Northfield Seminary for Girls, and the Dwight S. Priest fund, named for her father, to Mount Hermon School for Boys.

Miss Priest was one of the early students at the Seminary and had entered in 1885, six years after its founding by Dwight L. Moody.

William F. Holbrook

William F. Holbrook of Keene, N. H., died at his home in that city last week Wednesday, January 13, at the age of 72 years. For more than fifty years he had conducted the wholesale house of the Holbrook Grocery Co. and had been interested in other similar wholesale houses in Burlington, Vt., and at Laconia, N. H.

Mr. Holbrook was a benefactor of the Northfield Schools and had given to Mount Hermon school, the administration building which bears his name. He had been active in church and community work and was a director of the Cheshire County Savings Bank. His son, Richard L. Holbrook is Mayor of Keene. The funeral service was held last week Friday afternoon at the First Congregational church and Rev. Edward H. Newcomb of Kittery, Maine, a former pastor, and Rev. A. Rushed To Hospital

Donald Finch, the efficient janitor at the High and Center schools, suffered an attack of appendicitis last Sunday evening at his home and was rushed to the Farren Memorial hospital immediately for an operation. It proved to be a double rupture and he is in a serious condition although showing some improvement. Dr. Wright is his physician and Dr. William Pelletier performed the operation. The sympathy of a host of friends and students at the schools is extended to him in his suffering.

Had Unwelcome Caller

From across the river in the town of Gill comes an interesting animal wildlife story. Miss Mavrette Johnson had an unwelcome caller and as her kitchen door opened in walked a coon, probably looking for some samples of her excellent cooking. She was terrified but immediately set about to drive it out, when the animal remonstrated and bit her on her leg, inflicting a bad wound. She was taken by friends to Farren Memorial hospital for treatment and the coon was caught in a trap by tracks. It had been badly injured. Irving Franklin.

The Old Bell Tolls In Greetings To Holland

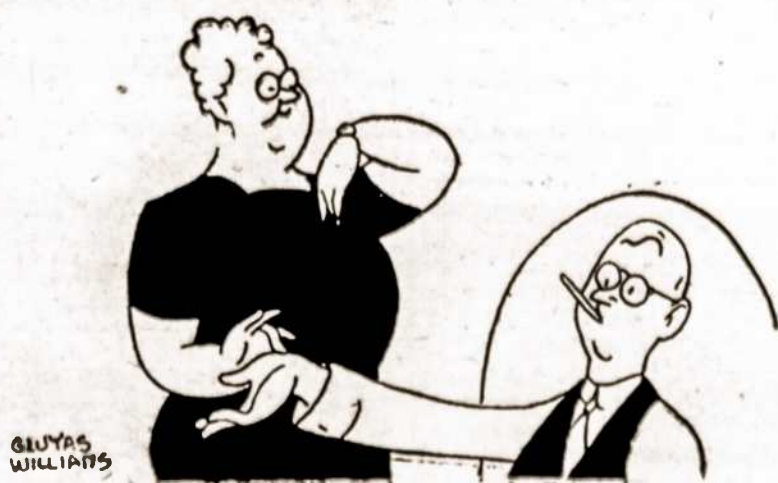

Kingston, N. Y., came into being as a result of its settlement by the Dutch who first named the place Wiltwyck. They had come up from New York through the entire Hudson River valley and here and there small communities were created. On both sides of the Hudson river are cities and towns, which were settlements founded by the Dutch pioneers. They brought with them their civilization and established free government, schools and churches. Today in Kingston many families trace their ancestry to these hardy folk and Dutch names are in evidence everywhere. The First Dutch Reformed church of that city is a large and beautiful cathedral-like structure and its congregation numbers among its membership the descendants of the old first families. Its graveyard surrounding the church in the center of the town is where many of the founders are buried. It all provides a most intense historical setting. But to my story. From the belfry of this church, the old bell was sounded in a New Year's greeting to the people of Holland, by short wave, and from inside the church was broadcast messages of cheer, sympathy and promise by the present pastor of the church, the Mayor of the city and other prominent persons. Also the organ pealed forth its message. The broadcaster was a young man who had escaped from Holland and has taken refuge in America. He was an operator in Holland but fled with others before the onrushing Germans. Much publicity was given this event, but it is of interest here because that church has sent many to attendance at the conferences here and its former pastor was the late Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve, who with his family was a well known summer resident, having property in Mountain Park, just off the Winchester road. His family continue to enjoy Northfield each year as they occupy the summer home.

Episcopal Services At The Baptist Church

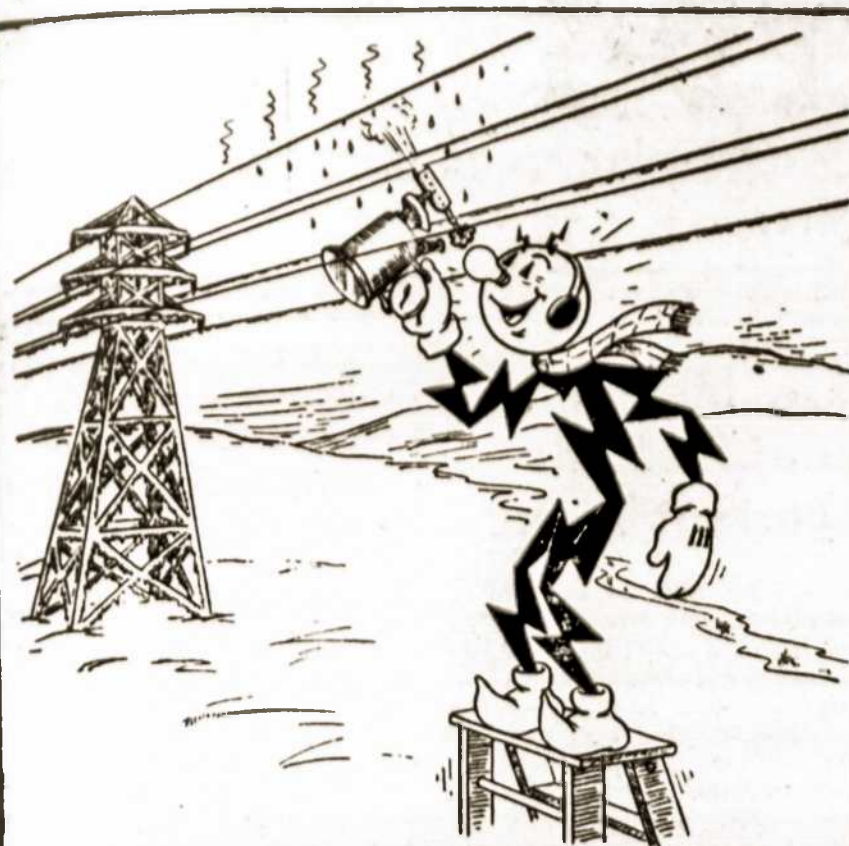

A special letter has been sent to all members of the parish of St. James Episcopal church at Greenfield, that the congregation will worship for the regular morning service on Sundays in January with the Baptist congregation, in February with the congregation of All Souls church and in March at the Second Congregational church. However all communion services will be held in St. James chapel. Invitations were extended by the officials of these congregations to Rev. John B. Whiteman and accepted. The Episcopal church cannot adapt its heating system to other fuel except oil and there is not sufficient to heat the church. All members of the parish in Northfield received copies of the letter.

Add Many New Members To Local Church Rolls

At the first service of the Congregational church for the new year many additional members were received into full fellowship of the church and the list included: Carl Stone; Isabelle Stone; Elaine Franz; Bette Franz; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Currier; Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cutler; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Franz; Kenneth Franz; Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. White; Miss Margaret Page; Mrs. Florence Phelps, and Rev. Robert C. Miskram.

HOW "THAWING OUT" THE MAIN LINES KEPT WAR INDUSTRIES RUNNING!

All through the recent ice-storm, more than 99% of the war industry in western Massachusetts received a full and uninterrupted supply of electric power.

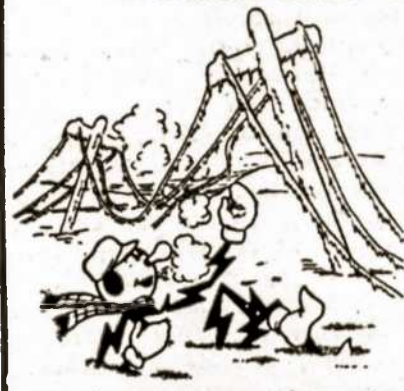

How was this possible? The high-voltage power lines which bring electric service to the towns and cities in which these war plants are located, pass right through the areas where the ice-storm was most destructive.

Yet these heavy lines were kept working through the storm by literally "hawing" them out.

As the ice formed, it was melted by applying a controlled "short circuit" to various sections of the transmission network. This "short circuit" created heat which did the trick — a process possible only on high-voltage lines.

A few years ago, this storm might have shut down dozens of factories. Fortunately, when they were needed most for war production, electrical science was able to outwit nature and keep the main power lines open.

OTHER LINES NOT SO EASY!

Unfortunately, low-voltage distribution lines cannot be thawed out by this method. Many residential and rural areas suffered severe damage during the storm. It took all the man-power and equipment from all parts of the Western Massachusetts Electric Company, to restore service (and other electric companies from as far as New York City and Northern Vermont came to our aid—for which we are duly thankful).

The patience and understanding of customers who had to go without electricity was greatly appreciated by your electric company.

At the present time there are several desirable properties offered for a home in this community at very reasonable prices.

The list can not be published or the low cost of its purchase but if you are in the market it will be worth your while to confer with me. After the war is over properties will be in demand and values will go up. Now is the time to investigate.

The Unitarian Church

Next Sunday at 10:45 a. m., service of worship, sermon topic: "Song in Times of Tribulation" a theme based on the Hebrew Psalms. Rev. Arthur Heeb, minister, Mrs. L. Percy Goodspeed, choir leader and organist. A cordial welcome to all. Church school, 10 a. m.; topic, "Seeing and Not Seeing."

Mr. Heeb will lead the service of worship over radio station WHAI Wednesday at 9 a. m. Last week Mrs. Gertrude Morgan and Mrs. Hazel Anderson, accompanied by Mrs. Josephine Webster, sang at the service.

Speaking on the theme, "The Importance of Living" last Sunday, Mr. Heeb said in part: Religion today is accused of being an escape from reality. In every age this might be said of our efforts to find God, the Great Reality. Mystery religions were numerous, flourishing with their dark and weird rites when St. John said: "He that loveth his brother abideth in the light." Living healthy flesh and blood lives in the sight of the One Father to him was the best religion.

Lin Yutang, whose book with this title, says that the New England village with Emersonian insight and the love of simplicity, the love of the land as Thoreau saw it was very much like the oldest continuing civilization, the Chinese. Our President guarantees work for every man after this war. We may ask, where! Not in crowded cities where the population never reproduces itself. But here, in Northfield and in a thousand other towns it should be supplied, where men's hearts are. The small factory, guaranteeing eight months' work with work on the land is the ideal.

Living then can again become religion with the "four freedoms" implanted in men's hearts. This world a kingdom of heaven, not an escape to a realm beyond the "Pearly Gates" for justice and compensation is the first requisite. Human nature, judged as evil by every religion during the long ages of scarcity will yet be seen as essentially good in the new age of plenty.

Our thinking about the importance of living will have to be changed. First, What is man? Essentially an eternal being, and second, he will have a sacred sense of physical and spiritual continuity. With Wendell Wilkie we will again see that education in the Liberal Arts will make us, not narrow, separated, specialists in certain skills, but specialists in the art of living.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Garson of Newark, N. J., announce the birth of a son on Sunday, January 10. Mrs. Garson is the former Ruth DesJardins, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. DesJardins, summer residents of this town.

President William E. Park will be the speaker at the morning service at the Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, New Hampshire, this Sunday.

"You knew he was a burglar when you married him?" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir. I thought he'd be quiet about the house."

Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "BUY U.S." campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

Joseph C. Grew Warns

Half-Effort Will Not Defeat Japan

By JOSEPH C. GREW

United States Ambassador to Japan until the outbreak of war, and author of "Report From Tokio."

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "SAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In describing one of the big air battles over Guadalcanal a recent newspaper account tells of an American flyer who parachuted from his crippled plane to the waters of Lunga Bay. The Navy craft which picked him up next went to the rescue of a Japanese pilot seen struggling in the water nearby. As the rescue boat reached the Japanese flyer he suddenly pulled out his revolver, aimed it at the drenched American pilot and pulled the trigger. The cartridge failed to explode. Then the Japanese officer turned the gun on himself with suicidal intent. Again he pulled the trigger and again his revolver failed him. At this point an American sailor knocked him out with a boat hook and pulled him aboard the American craft a prisoner.

Almost daily one reads eye-witness stories such as this one, and all of them clearly demonstrate that war with our enemy in the Pacific cannot end in compromise.

For ten years I lived in Japan. The truth as I know it from close observation is this: Nothing less than the exertion of our maximum capacities, individually and collectively, in a war of offense will bring our beloved country safely to the longed-for haven of victorious peace. The Japanese are pawns of a senseless but mighty militarism—a warrior caste which is ruthless and cruel beyond comprehension. From the flood of eye witness accounts of atrocity and bestiality one

JOSEPH C. GREW

Says It's Fight to Finish

fact shines clear. We must utterly crush that machine and caste and system. If, however, we Americans think that collectively and individually we can continue to lead our normal lives, leaving the spirit of self-sacrifice to our soldiers and sailors, we shall unquestionably run the risk of a stalemate with Japan. I do not have the slightest doubt of our eventual victory. But I do not wish to see the period of our blood, sweat and tears indefinitely and unnecessarily prolonged. We must not fail to realize that we are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot be broken even by successive defeats and untold economic hardship, a people who gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation. We must also remember that Japan did not start this war without carefully laid military plans for victory over the United States and a peace dictated by their war lords at the White House.

This is a total war, the only answer to which is a total American victory. It is a war in which half measures of any kind mean incredible waste of material, energy and human life. In this sense a half-filled War Savings Stamp album is symbolic of a half effort. There are, I am told, roughly 100 million partially complete War Stamp albums now in circulation. These uncompleted Stamp albums are, in a measure, like a 100 million threats to a speedy and victorious peace. On the other hand, for every War Savings album completed and cashed in for a Bond, you the owner have helped some soldier or sailor take a forward step on the uphill road to total victory. U. S. Treasury Department

MY POWER

I know not whence I came,
I know not whither I go;
But the fact stands clear that I am here
In this world of pleasure and woe.
And out of the mist and murk
Another truth shines plain—
It is in my power each day and hour
To add to its joy or its pain.

GOOD SENTIMENT

With the present rationing system in force and the necessary request recently made, that there should be no pleasure driving, the seriousness is questioned by some folks who would evade the demand. Louis T. Merriam, who is the liaison officer for this district of the OPA, has frankly stated recently that the present rationing program has no pattern of previous experience to follow and that therefore the public must exercise patience. There should be no controversy by any group of peoples, for briefly "all pleasure driving" of any kind should be suspended for the gravity of the situation at present must be realized, and all must co-operate in solving the transportation problem and allow for bringing in more fuel oil for the homes of our people and not merely gasoline. Don't use your automobile except for strictly essential business.

IT WINS PRAISE

The work of the Salvation Army in its field of war service as well as on the "home front" has come in for much favorable comment recently. Their effort for the man, who may be down, but never out, is well appreciated, and its charity even in Northfield, through the local committee, knows no bounds. No questions are asked if a case is deserving. Former President Herbert Hoover, last week in an address, stated that the organization was a moral support to the men in the various services in the last World War. Today the Salvation Army is again conducting its effort, and it is one of our great organizations for social service and in a thousand fields. For 60 years it has been an essential part of the machinery of our social structure.

Oil Shortage Serious

"Growing seriousness of the Massachusetts oil shortage makes it imperative that every oil user practice drastic conservation," says Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, Emergency State Conservator, and this information is passed along to the people of Northfield by the Press.

"While householders generally have been using their allotments sparingly, the situation calls for even more care."

"Already substantial oil savings have been obtained through the conversion of many large users of oil to coal. Even further conversion is forthcoming through the Federal War Production Board program under which such users must convert to coal or close down."

"Thus far no such drastic step is contemplated in regard to homes. Yet that does not mean that household oil savings are not important. It is of utmost necessity that both industry and the household concentrate on means of conserving oil."

"Every oil user should endeavor to reduce his oil consumption to a point well below his ration limit in preparation for emergencies arising from transportation delays."

caused by storms, mechanical breakdown of tank car equipment and priorities for movement of the armed forces.

"It is also important that coal not be wasted. Every pound of coal or gallon of oil conserved releases transportation equipment for other essential purposes."

Rates All Motorists

As "Prize Saps"

Protesting against the singling out of eastern states for gasoline restrictions far beyond those imposed in other parts of the country, Herman A. MacDonald, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Works, complained that if the government did not want motorists to drive "why doesn't it say so and save the motorist a lot of money?"

Calling the motorist the "prize sap of the century," Mr. MacDonald pointed out that after the car owner has paid motor vehicle excise taxes, license and registration fees and been rationed on gasoline and tires, "snoopers along the highways want to know why he is driving at all."

The Commissioner claimed that if the motorist shouldn't drive, the government should place a complete ban on driving rather than deceive the motorist into thinking he can drive in order to collect a lot of money from him in automobile taxes.

With Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts met at the Center school Monday noon. There were the usual exercises and then the girls left for their classes.

Mrs. Louis Abbey has been appointed assistant captain to Anne Senior.

The Child Care and First Aid badges have been completed under the direction of Mrs. Albert Anderson and Mrs. Ross Spencer.

The new badges which are to be taken are Red Cross Home Nursing (by 7), which will be supervised by Mrs. Anderson, and Decorating (by 7) which will be directed by Captain Senior.

Mrs. Lillian Wells is head of badges and awards.

The social activity for the month is to be a fox and goose hunt which will end up with a hot dog roast.

Captain Senior asks that all the girls who have not procured their insignias are to get them as soon as possible. It is asked that they secure them before Rally Day.

SMART, PRETTY, FIX-IT-YOURSELF COIFFURE

SOMETIMES a hair style is like a popular dress style—becoming to many women, simple enough to wear at home yet pretty enough for visits and meetings. That's the kind of coiffure pictured on this page. It's new but not extreme, becoming to almost every age and type of face, easy to fix yourself. The little side rolls give the new "upped" effect that looks so smart and neat; the center hair is arranged in soft waves that extend over the brow, so that the general effect is not too severe. A woman with very straight hair needs a good permanent as the basis for her hair-do, but anyone who has naturally curly hair can easily set it for herself in this charming manner—provided her hair is in healthy, manageable condition.

Before you start trying to arrange this coiffure or any other new effect, however, you must be sure that your hair is healthy and manageable. If you feel that you—

Cookies

If any one food is most appreciated by our armed forces, it is probably the home-made cookie.

So mother, prepare a batch of

Semi-Sweet

Chocolate Nut

Drops right

them to your

By the way, don't forget to make

"Dad" will rave over them.

Semi-Sweet Chocolate Nut Drops

3 egg whites; 1 cup granulated or powdered sugar; ½ cup saltines, finely crushed; ¼ cup chopped nut meats; 1 package semi-sweet chocolate, melted; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry.

Add sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture is very stiff.

Fold in saltines and . . . then add chocolate and vanilla. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven

(375° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cookies.
